Sexy Centralized Logging and more...

Presented by Dan Patsey, CommerceHub

When: May 22nd, 2014 @ 5:30PM

Where: Enable Labs, 415 River St, 4th Floor, Troy, NY 12180

Presentation:

Taking a look at your logs is not too painful when you only have one or two servers. Once you need to scale your architecture and you find yourself with over a dozen servers spread across different environments, taking a look at your logs becomes quite a burden. If only there were a sexier solution...

In this talk, we'll discover how CommerceHub deployed a solution for this problem centered around Logstash. If logs are your passion, this presentation is perfect for you. If you don't give a crap about logs, this presentation is also perfect for you – we'll discuss Redis, Elastic Search, and a couple other technologies that were part of the solution.

Agenda:

5:30 - 6:00 - Food/Network

6:00 - Intro/Sponsor

6:00 - 7:30 – Presentation/Q&A

7:30 - Close
